The Arthur J. Holland Program on Ethics in Government presents

A Book Talk with

William E. Schluter

WILLIAM E. SCHLUTER

SOFT CORRUPTION

How Unethical Conduct
Undermines Good Government and What To Do About It

Schluter (R), former New Jersey state senator and vice chair of the State Ethics Commission, provides a fascinating account of the often invisible decisions that lead to ethical misconduct. He describes his experiences and strategies in combating misconduct over a 40-year political career. Schluter examines examples of corruption involving campaign money, lobbying, conflicts of interest, patronage abuse, and electoral manipulation, all of which contribute to dysfunction in both national and state government. He recommends a specific and comprehensive plan for reform that engages citizens and can be applied in all states.
